To whom it may Concern;

Please give strong consideration to Torquato Tasso from isite5 for handling your Web development project. He served as the primary developer for our school district's Web site.

Torquato developed the proposal for our Web site project, and held a presentation to our board of education and completed the development of the site. He also provided startup in-service, once the site was turned over for local hosting and maintenance. As we explored third party software for our calendars and list serve capability, Torquato provided options for us to consider that best suited our needs. He honored our requests for adjustments and tailored our Web site to meet our needs and desires in prompt and exact fashion. The project was completed within budget.

I would recommend Torquato Tasso to anyone who requires the services of a well-rounded and professional Web designer.

Sincerely,

Robert McNulty
